torrentEver heard of this principle? It is not an esoteric mathematical formula, but rather the central guideline of the Christian religion. In other words, Jesus Christ says that those who follow Him know only love. This is the first and foremost guideline, the most fundamental principle of any right-thinking Christian. Specifically, Romans 13:10 reads, "Love each other as I have loved you." Christians interpret this verse to mean that if you aren't following this guideline, then you aren't really a Christian at all. Acts 15:20 reads, "I know that you can't imagine how difficult it is to you." Christians interpret this verse to mean that if you don't think that followers of Christ are actually faithful to their religious beliefs, then you should really reconsider who your savior is. Matthew 12:34-35 reads, "Whoever does not practice as Jesus did does not have God." Christians interpret this verse to mean that if you do not follow Christ's edicts, commandments, and guidelines, then you are not his true disciple. Luke 11:52 reads, "Therefore, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.” Christians interpret this verse to mean that if you take one step in the wrong direction, then you will be punished twice the normal amount. Luke 10:27 reads, “Lord, I believe; help my unbelief.” Christians interpret this verse to mean that if you have doubts about your salvation, then you should really start believing in Christ as your Savior. Luke 18:1 reads, “He said to him, ‘Who is my neighbor?’” Christians interpret this verse to mean that if you don’t know the identity of all your neighbors, then you should really follow Christ’s lead in regards to how you should live.

Matthew 7:13 reads, “Therefore, why do you call me ‘Lord, Lord,’ and do not do what I say?” Christians interpret this verse to mean that if you disobey and ignore Christ’s first principle of all, then you may call Him “Lord,” but He will deny
