Q: I want to create a link for "Back" button to open up a particular canvas in iOS I have multiple Canvas's on a page. I created a page in which I want to navigate with a link to a particular canvas. I put it in a UINavigationController and it navigates to the page with the link. But I want to include a back button to navigate back to previous canvas. How can I do it? A: Have you tried something like this? This brings you back to the rootViewController. [self.navigationController popViewControllerAnimated:YES]; If you are creating you RootViewController from a ViewController, you can do it this way: [self.navigationController popViewControllerAnimated:YES]; [self.navigationController popToViewController:self.navigationController.topViewController animated:YES];

What's new:

Fantasy Grounds - Path of the Stranger (PFRPG) This is a free addition to the Fantasy Grounds 4.5 engine for standalone users. This works like any other game in the Fantasy Grounds roadmap. Only difference is the original DMG must be made available to download to work. What is it: Fantasy Grounds - Path of the Stranger is a free tool to help roleplayers, DMs, and players prepare characters from the Pathfinder RPG. As a DM, one can use the tool to quickly and easily make a character sheet for your players from any of their characters, and then link the sheet to the content they've already created in your world, so you don't have to start from scratch as everyone creates content for new players. This gives you flexibility, so you can easily create content for your d&d 4e, pathfinder, and 5e players. This application does not replace the nature of your universal D&D content, but rather enhances it by allowing you to more easily create handouts that have additional material that helps players prepare for roleplay. What is it: Please note, we are continually working on improving and expanding the application, so it may not always be 100% accurate at any given time, or handle situation where material was not properly loaded. To help us do better and to improve the service, we'd love some participation from you! Consider leaving us a comment below to help us improve and allow us to better test the product. Do you have ideas on how we can make the app better? Would you like to see us incorporate a different way of submitting changes? If so, we'd be happy to take your suggestions and would like to point out it is our job to bring you features that you want. So tell us what you'd like to see so we can come back to you on the following topics: [insert request, discussion, or any ideas you have, starting with "Hi"]

Narrator - We are working on adding an option to have a narrator to help players find their way around the app, and to help players quickly review the content about them (for players with certain elements in the appearance if the writer)

Appendix, extra information, resources - We are working on adding things like an appendix, extra information about what is included as part of the application, and resources for the toolset that you may want to use
