For over 30 years, EA SPORTS FIFA has been building a football empire by bringing the most authentic football gaming experience to as many fans as possible. EA SPORTS is the publisher of the FIFA franchise. Together, EA and FIFA produce games such as FIFA 15, FIFA 16, and FIFA 19. Why did we make a new FIFA game? The Creative Director for FIFA 20 during the development process outlined it like this: “No one’s ever tried to merge the two most beloved sports on the planet — soccer and videogames. No one’s ever tried to take the best innovations in football and fuse them with the best innovations in videogames. No one’s ever tried to build a living, breathing, global game that’s going to challenge your expectations of the next-gen experience. All I know is that there's a hell of a lot of people who want to get their hands on that. I want to give them that chance. I want to give them that chance, and so we're making a new FIFA." What are the new features? There are now more ways to be a winner. Whether you're playing online, against a friend, or on a custom-built videogame session with friends, FIFA 22 features five new stars that give you a whole new look at the game. There are three of these new stars, a new draft mode, and an updated Career Mode that's made to put your Career Mode skills to the test. There's even more in the FIFA Interactive World Cup. New Career Mode The Career Mode at the center of FIFA 22's game is now more flexible, more rewarding, and full of opportunities. "I want the Career Mode to have an effect on your videogame-playing life." We built it from the ground-up for the core gamer and we want to deepen your personalization experience in a way that's never been done before. In addition to the existing set of Career Tools, there are over 10 full Career Pathways to choose from. They're based on the clubs, leagues, countries, and competitions that are most meaningful to you, and they offer a number of branching paths that will let you experience a career in a new way. You'll be able to start from any level you like, and you'll get to choose where you
