August 8, 2011 Its official....Marriage is for life And this has been in my head all day today. I have finally found my one and only--that one man who I can marry and have a life with. I've been married before--and I have to say the divorce was one of the hardest things I have had to go through in my life. I just wish I had known then what I know now. I wish I would have thought of things then that would have made it easier for us. But we never know. I don't like to think about the past and the things we did when we weren't on our best behavior--because it makes me really sick inside. But now, I know this will never happen again. I am secure in my marriage today. I know today that I will have a man in my life forever. His name is Joseph. He is a very nice man. He can be sweet and funny. He seems to really love me and only me. I can see that in his eyes. He is a wonderful man. There is no one else I want in my life. There is no one else I could spend the rest of my life with. He has made me his wife for life. He is my man and I love him and only him. Its been hard for me to admit it, because this is a new thing for me. I have always tried to be "fearless" in relationships. I have tried to be the one in control. I have tried to make my man my
