I have been using str_extract and pattern matching to do this in R but I am not really sure if this is the best way to solve my problem. Do you have any suggestions? test Pleasant Island Forest Pleasant Island Forest is a splendid gift to the state with more than 400 acres of land within the park, including one of the largest natural ponds in the state. The forest provides an important habitat for many wildlife species including woodpeckers, owls, and countless species of frogs. There are also many mushrooms growing in the forest that are used to make food and medicines. The forest also provides a home for the recently reintroduced black bear. History Pleasant Island State Park is the first of its kind in Pennsylvania. The park was established in 1933 as part of the Civilian Conservation Corps program to create jobs for the unemployed. CCC workers were placed in the woods of Pleasant Island, and many of the trees in the c6a93da74d
